What do I include in my frame of reference?

Where did you get the information from?

Why is knowing this so important?

Add your own questions or wonderings!

Who can use this information?